A Bird's-Eye View of Wildlife and a Private Air Advantage

The charter flights featured on Wings Over East Africa serve as a distinctive type of safari experience in and of themselves, in particular your flight to the Masai Mara Game Reserve, which affords sights of the region's incredible wildlife and gorgeous landscapes that simply can't be duplicated from ground level.

The Mara is home to one of the world's most impressive concentrations of wildlife, and your pilot-guides, skilled in low-level flying, give you the opportunity for a closer look at it than you've most likely ever experienced by air. You may catch glimpses of a giraffe stretching up to nibble a tree branch, an elephant cooling itself in the shallows of a muddy watering hole or a pink swath of countless flamingos wading at the edge of a sparkling lake.

Private chartered air adds another dimension to your safari experience as well, offering a level of time-saving convenience not possible with scheduled air. You're swept elegantly between far-flung locales, including to the forests of Uganda, where you go gorilla trekking, attended to in style by a dedicated flight crew en route.

From stunning aerial perspectives on African wildlife to easy access to the best of three countries on one incredible itinerary, Wings Over East Africa delivers.

The Stark Beauty of Sossusvlei, Namibia

Namibia's Sossusvlei is a salt-and-clay pan (or dried-up lake bed) found among the spectacular red-sand dunes of the Namib Desert, which stretches for 1,200 miles along southern Africa's Atlantic coast. This region's vistas of austere, almost otherworldly beauty are never on more vivid display than during the hot air balloon ride included during your three-night stay here.

The pale color of the pan, punctuated by gnarled black tree trunks, contrasts vividly with the Mars-like red of the dunes surrounding it, prompting the feeling you've been magically transported to another planet. "Fairy circles" — naturally occurring, ring-like depressions in the earth that dot the landscape — only add to Sossusvlei's uncanny sense of place.

Nighttime offers its contrasts as well, with daytime desert temperatures cooling significantly after sunset. And since Sossusvlei is part of a dark-sky reserve, a marvelous display of astronomical wonders awaits anyone willing to brave the chill. You can even seek out the southern constellations by telescope at your lodge's on-site observatory.

Far off the beaten path, Sossusvlei is usually a stand-alone destination, yet A&K is able to include it as part of a broader portrait of Southern Africa, thanks to privately chartered air.

flight to Windhoek, Namibia. On arrival, transfer by light aircraft to Sossusvlei and continue to your luxurious desert lodge. Enjoy an afternoon at leisure. DAY 9: Sossusvlei | Among the Towering Dunes

Today, discover renowned Sossusvlei, a place of otherworldly beauty. The salt-and-clay pan is surrounded by towering dunes that, together with the sky, make up the palette of burnt oranges and vivid blues that are so distinctive to the region. After an opportunity to climb "Big Daddy" — the tallest of the dunes — return to your lodge for an afternoon at leisure. andBeyond Sossusvlei Desert Lodge | Meals: B L D

DAY 10: Sossusvlei | Hot Air Balloon Ride

Daily Life Among the Long Shadows of Dynasties

For thousands of years, residents of Athens, Greece have carried on their daily lives against the fabulous backdrop of the Parthenon, its Doric columns standing sentinel over their timeless city. Similar scenes play out in Istanbul, Turkey, where locals stroll the aisles of a spice bazaar, following an age-old custom, and go about their day amid stunning architectural marvels like Suleymaniye Mosque and the exquisite Hagia Sofia.

The same holds true in Egypt, where monuments that have stood for millennia draw visitors from around the world, which they may visit while staying in Cairo or cruising the Nile. Wherever they go, they are welcomed by locals as accustomed to the magnificent pyramids and temples as visitors are in awe of them. The shadows of dynasties are long, but life is a continuum that sheds its light on each new day.

On Wings Over the Ancient World, you'll get to know these three disparate cultures in less than two weeks, owing to the convenience of private charter air. Experience past and present alike with equal authenticity, exploring the remnants of bygone civilizations alongside experts who breathe new life into them with their expansive knowledge and enthusiasm, and meeting with present-day residents in memorable situations that reveal the best of life today.

DAY 8: Cruising the Nile | Stunning Architecture

Legacy of the Moors

Spain and Morocco are both nations with rich and colorful histories influenced by many cultures down through the centuries — but perhaps by none more so than that of the Moors. The Moorish presence here began when Muslims from eastern North Africa, including Berbers and Arabs, expanded westward and northward across the Mediterranean Sea. In 711, they conquered Visigothic Hispania (the Iberian Peninsula). Later, the Berber Revolt in the Maghreb — a region that includes modern-day Morocco — led to eventual Moorish rule along the southern coast of the Mediterranean.

Over the next 700 years, the Moors developed a culture devoted to Islam while remaining comparatively tolerant of other religions. They built magnificent mosques and impressive seats of learning, including some of the oldest continuously operating universities in the world. Christian Europeans waged a centuries-long war dubbed the Reconquista to reclaim Iberia, which culminated in 1492. Moorish power later faded across Morocco as well.

Today, A&K's superb Resident Tour Directors and local guides excel at providing visitors with an in-depth understanding of the Moors' legacy of lyrical architecture, tantalizing cuisine and commitment to education, which still influences life throughout the region.

DAY 8: Marrakech | Historic Gardens & Design Your Day

Touchstones That Span a Continent — and Time Itself

For something manmade to endure for centuries, let alone millennia, it has to exhibit a provenance in history, a resonance in culture and architecture of exceptional integrity. Each of the five incredible monuments visited on this continent-spanning adventure meets those criteria in its own way.

China's Great Wall, first designed to prevent attacks by nomads, is now a touchstone for modern travellers; to stand upon its ramparts is to feel humbled by history.

In Beijing, the Forbidden City is the palatial heart of China and the largest imperial palace in the world. In Xian, the iconic Terra Cotta Warriors guard the tomb of the first emperor of China, their details revealing China's sense of art and culture.

Few itineraries better illustrate the advantages of private charter air than this sprawling journey, which also includes both Angkor Wat — a vast complex of stone-carved Hindu and Buddhist temples surrounded by lush jungle in Cambodia — and Borobudur, a similarly massive complex in Central Java, Indonesia.

Ancient Cultures Linked by the Sea

Few bodies of water on earth have played a more central role in the development of human civilization than the Mediterranean Sea. It was here that the ancient Phoenicians, Greeks and Romans sailed forth to explore new lands, do battle and conduct trade, spreading aspects of their distinctive cultures into Europe, Asia, North Africa and the Middle East as they went.

Time and tide rolled on, and new dynasties arose. The Moors conquered the northern coast of Africa and ruled Iberia for seven centuries until the crusader knights overcame them, leaving their own mark on Mediterranean history. Later still came the Venetians, who used their economic, cultural and naval might to dominate life on and around the sea.

Wings Over the Mediterranean is designed to reveal the common threads these bygone peoples wove throughout the entire region during their travels, and to discern remnants of their faded cultures that still linger today in the destinations you visit.

Only A&K's ability to craft one-of-a-kind itineraries utilizing privately chartered flights offers you this comprehensive perspective in a shorter time than ever before possible, on a single luxurious journey.

At the Crossroads of Empires

The lands of present-day Greece and Turkey have been trod by many peoples of many eras, sometimes linking East with West, and at other times dividing them. The armies of vast empires have swept across these crossroads again and again, driven by the ambitions of legendary leaders and bringing with them immeasurable cultural change.

As the birthplace of democracy and the ancient home of philosophy, mathematics, theater and more, Greek culture was once without peer. Your visit to the ruins of the palace of Knossos reveals the grace of Minoan architecture and art.

Turkey has witnessed its own share of momentous historical turning points, from the first establishment of Christianity as an organized religion in Constantinople to its role as the hub of the vast Ottoman empire that ruled the region for 600 years. Whether ballooning over Cappadocia or appreciating the majesty of the incredible Hagia Sophia, Turkey holds an inimitable appeal.

Four Ultimate Destinations

It's hard to imagine four European capitals that have had a greater impact on world history, culture and cuisine than the glittering quartet featured on this inspiring grand adventure.

From Shakespeare to Sherlock Holmes, Buckingham Palace to the Battle of Britain, London occupies a sizable niche in the western psyche. Rome served as the central hub in the wheel of Western history for centuries. The ancient Romans used their military might to conquer and colonize, and when it comes to living life with a passion for good food, fine wine and immortal art, the Eternal City still rules.

As the birthplace of democracy and drama, classical Athens' influences extend unbroken into the present. Its iconic landmarks, like the magnificent Parthenon, bear witness to its past greatness and its idyllic beauty lives on to help inspire your modern-day odyssey, achieved with ease by private air.
